

A Christmas Carol Theme Activities: The Moral of the Story

Throughout reading this book, we have discussed a variety of themes. Remember that theme is the moral of the story, or the story’s universal message. What do you think the message is here?

Rank these themes in order of importance in the story.

The rich and the poor.

Guilt and justice.

Love in all its forms.

The Christmas Spirit.

The power to change.

Now choose the three themes you marked most important, and support why with examples. Then, provide at least one quotation from the book supporting each point.

	Explanation	Quotation
Important Theme 1
Important Theme 2

Now choose one the themes and use your explanation and quotation as evidence to explain why it is the most important theme in the story.
